EURO-MEDITERRANEAN GREEN JOBS

"The success of implementing green policies is dependent upon the availability of skilled people"

EGREJOB
EURO-MEDITERRANEAN GREEN JOBS

COOPERACIÓN EUROPEA Y MEDIO ORIENTE
COMUNIDAD EUROPEA DE INVESTIGACIÓN Y DESARROLLO

The PROJECT

The overall objective of EGREJOB is to close skills and unemployment gap of the concerned Mediterranean basin area to enhance young and decent employment opportunities by disclosing the green economy job potentials, with the final aim of enhance the competitiveness of the involved territories.

The project in practice intends to build an Euromed incubation system of skills in the green job field that will result in:

- easing the entering into the labour market of young people, and women in particular, within decent conditions
- for the public authorities, catching the green jobs opportunity to implement labour policies with high occupation potential within "Decent" conditions

- for the Mediterranean Systems of the concerned territories, linking the youth unemployment issue together with the green job opportunity towards the Development of the territories.

Egrejob budget amounts to € 1.763.959 (ERDF contribution € 1.587.563).

The main Egrejob outputs are:

ETEC (Euro-mediterranean Training and Employment Committee): it will be a multi-stakeholder platform, formed by key “green jobs” players such as local and regional authorities, SMEs, universities, training and labour agencies, employment centers, professional associations and trade unions from both shores of the Mediterranean Basin, that supervise, monitor and strategically coordinate all project activities.

Green Job Feasibility (Green Job Assessment): it will provide the Public actors and the Mediterranean Systems with fundamental tool, based on a “what if” scenario, the skills analysis and the analysis of linking employment and social development policies with green economy, realised for each concerned territory and for the overall cooperation area, allowing the development of targeted strategies in the framework of the transition to the green economy. Based on the analysis a Green jobs database will be created.

Modelling of EGREJOB training and qualification path: it will allow its replication and therefore its use by the interested stakeholders (Public institutions, Actors from the Mediterranean System).

Training module on skills for green jobs

based on the results of the Feasibility study: 10 young people will participate to a specific formative session formed by theoretical modules and training on the job

Certification of Green skills: it will disclose new job opportunity for the young people who will see their competences to be recognised to open up green jobs chances and potentialities in a wider area, facilitating their mobility.

EGREJOB permanent platform:

integrated with the Green jobs database, it will be a precious matching tool at disposal of youth green job seekers and green jobs providers, allowing them to enhance their opportunities of seizing green jobs opportunities.
